WAR NOT
WANTED.

Russia Appeals to the Powers.

Would Clear Peking of Allied Armies.

Then Negotiate for Peace and the Indemnities.

United States Willing to Lend Its Sanction to Restoration of Chinese Rulers.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—The United States government, having acted on the Russian proposition as to the withdrawal of troops from Peking, is now quietly waiting for responses to the notes which have been sent to various representatives for presentation to the powers. Judging by the rate of progress made in the preceding negotiations, several days and perhaps a week may pass before all these replies are received. According to their formal expressions, all of the powers are agreed upon this one point: They do not desire to enter upon a formal war upon China.

For the moment, the United States finds itself side by side with Russia, whose earnestness cannot be questioned at this time. The object now in view is to bring about a situation in China that will admit of the resumption of negotiations looking to the reestablish-ment of order and the cessation of hostilities, with the assurance of protection to foreign life and property.

It is not, however, the case of other questions that remain to be settled. It is not yet clear what the United States will do in the event of a Russian ultimatum. The Chinese government has been earnestly championing the cause of Li Hung Chang from a precisely similar motive, namely, a desire to speedily rehabilitate the Chinese government in order that it may carry out its express desire to settle the difficulties which have arisen. This has been the object of the negotiations of the last few days, and the Russian note and the United States response were but parts of the general plan.

In responding to the Russian note as it did, the United States government availed itself of the opportunity of directly inviting the remaining powers to express their desires in the matter of a settlement, or rather to indicate how,
in their judgment, peace negotiations could be best instituted. This note was calculated to secure a full disclosure of the intentions of the powers, if the inquiry is made by them in the frank spirit in which it was received by the United States government.

The difficulty apprehended now in reaching a settlement lies in intentional delay and procrastination on the part of any power which is concealing its true purpose, and does not desire to avoid a formal war.

The State Department is already embarrassed by delays experienced in securing responses to its note challenging the production of objections to Li Hung Chang. It appears that much

RUSSIA.

Li Hung Chang Should Be Allowed to Negotiate if He Can Do So.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—The course of the United States in the pending Chinese negotiations was made more clear today by an important note, embodying a communication from Russia and advising the powers of the action taken by this government. The Russian note declared the intervention of Li Hung Chang's communication with the Chinese government was "inexplicable," and asked that the powers direct their commanders to vacate the country.
The United States concurs with the position of Russia and informs the powers that instructions have been sent to our representative in China in the spirit of the Russian note. Following is the official text of the communication:
"Telegram sent to the representatives of the United States in Berlin, Vienna, Paris, London, Rome, Tokyo and St.
Petersburg:
"DEPARTMENT OF STATE,
Washington, Aug. 30.—The following note was received by the United States from the charge d'affaires of the Russian government at this capital, August 27:
"I have just received a communication from the imperial government informing me of the resolutions of the admirals of the allied fleets interdict-ing the plenipotentiary of the Chinese government, Li Hung Chang, from all communication with the Chinese government in event of his arrival at Taku.
"This resolution being inexplicable, in view of the fact that all powers have recognized the utility of admitting Li Hung Chang's services in the eventual negotiations for peace and especially because it would be impossible for him to fulfill his mission in the capacity of plenipotentiary if this were done, it would be desirable that the interested governments should give orders to countermand the above-mentioned decision."

"Inquiry of Admiral Remy was first answered that no such resolution had been adopted. He now cables that the admirals have agreed to write the dean of the legations at Peking instructing, in case Li Hung Chang should arrive at Taku meantime, not to allow him to communicate with Chinese shore authorities. Remy dissented from the last proposition.

The State Department has dispatched its instructions to the United States diplomatic representatives abroad in conformity with the decision reached by the Cabinet upon the Russian proposal to withdraw the troops in Peking, in order to allow the Empress Dowager and Emperor Kwang Hsi to return to the capital, to institute negotiations for a settlement with the powers. All of these steps are matters of common agreement, so it was not possible for two of the nations concerned, Russia and the United States, to make agreements between themselves at this stage, at least, as it is necessary to advise each of the governments represented in China of the various propositions as they are broached.
The instruction sent to our representative recalls to their mind the conditions which the United States government already has laid down as the proper basis for the institution of negotiations for an amicable settlement. Some of these conditions have been met; the international column is in Peking, and the foreigners in that capital are safe for the time being.
The remainder of the conditions, namely, those looking to the future protection of American interests, are yet to be complied with. If arrangements can be made for their acceptance under proper guarantees for the performance, our government will withdraw its troops from Peking in order to facilitate the negotiations for peace, and this assurance has been given to the Russian government, along with the others. The Chinese government must guarantee its ability to prevent the spread of disorder to the other prov-

Clever Corbett

He Whips McCoy With Greatest Ease.

Smothers Him in the Fifth Round.

Thirteen-Inning Tie Game at Chicago—Ten Innings at Boston—Racing.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) More than 10,000 men saw Jim Corbett of California defeat Mike McCoy in the fifth round of their fight at Madison Square Garden tonight. Corbett, when he got well under way, simply outclassed McCoy so easily that the latter was a clinch to beat. Corbett hammered the Hoosier until he was all tangled up, and when ready Jim cut loose, and with the fastest assault ever seen in the ring, he literally beat the "Kid" down and out.

Corbett's blows in the fifth round came so rapidly that McCoy did not know how to ward them off, and when he was completely puzzled, Corbett increased his speed, and with stomach punches that were straight to the mark and had plenty of power in them, he doubled the former's weight up in the air, and he fell to the floor in agony.

In the first two rounds it looked as if McCoy could win, for he was confident and forced the fight. Corbett did nothing in these two rounds but shift around on the defensive and block every blow that McCoy aimed at him. Corbett's face indicated uneasiness. He was pale and his lips quivered continually. McCoy, believing that Jim was inwardly annoyed, took chances, and in the third round he began to give in for missteps. Then it was that Corbett showed he had been holding himself in reserve, for as soon as he began to let his blows, it was apparent to the crowd that McCoy was in a bad way.

Corbett's feinting at this stage of the fight was a revelation. He had McCoy, who is rated as a fast boxer, completely "up a tree," and soon showed that he could land blows upon the "Kid" when and where he pleased. Corbett did not wild swing, but made every blow count. Most of the blows were body blows, and they were hard enough to be felt by the westerner.

In the fourth round, Corbett found he had McCoy where he wanted him, and landed blows upon him so fast that the "Kid" for the first time showed he was outclassed. He did this best to escape, using speedily footwork and trying to block with both hands, but Corbett was swifter, and kept in on top of him all through the round. Corbett's blows came from all quarters, and he kept McCoy's head down and in the face and stomach, and was staggering against the ropes when time was called.

When McCoy came up for the fifth round, he ran into the ropes and in a moment the Californian was driving in punches that the quickest eye could not count. McCoy lost his bearings at once. He found he could not hit Corbett at all, and yet Jim was hitting from head to waist with all kinds of blows, which came in a storm, and were hard enough to make the Hoosier wince. The blow that finally put McCoy to the floor was a left swing in the pit of the stomach.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—The long-looked-for meeting between James J. Corbett and "Kid" McCoy, which was expected to take place at the Madison Square Club at Madison Square Garden is over, and in less than five rounds Corbett proved himself to be the better fighter. Corbett, who was expected to win, won in the fifth round by a knockout. McCoy was knocked out by a left swing in the pit of the stomach.

Corbett, who was expected to win, won in the fifth round by a knockout. McCoy was knocked out by a left swing in the pit of the stomach.

Up to the moment that the men stepped into the ring, opinions widely divergent. Many claimed that Corbett would prove to be the stronger, as well as the cleverer, and it was known that his superb feinting and heavy slugging that he put McCoy down and out. McCoy's friends all along have claimed that he was equally as dexterous with his hands, eyes and feet as the former champion, and in addition to this, they said, that the "Kid" could hit harder than Corbett. All who have met McCoy, however, while McCoy showed some signs of jab, he did not cut Corbett's skin, nor did he land a single, heavy right-hand blow during the contest.

On the other hand, Corbett, when he dropped science and began to slug, up and down the ring, which was the tone of McCoy's guard away, and when Corbett found a vulnerable spot in the region of McCoy's heart, two lefts, followed by a right, ended the battle.

Both men entered the ring in superb condition. McCoy was heavier by several pounds than in any previous fight. He said, himself, that he never felt better in his life, and that he was never so fit as he was for this contest. His appearance in the ring before the fight and during the first three rounds bore out all that McCoy had said about himself.

Corbett was also in tip-top shape. The rumors that he was afflicted with rheumatism were exaggerated, as Corbett himself says that he was as fit as a fiddle, and had only experienced a little stiffness when he awoke this morning. His footwork, slava clever, in fact, he showed no signs of rheumatic trouble in the big blow-makeup, and as for his work with his hands, it could not be improved upon.

In the opening round, McCoy showed a much better count than Corbett. McCoy seemed very confident, though careful, while Corbett was nervous and in at ease. McCoy started with his usual coolness, but Corbett was belligerent. The entire round was taken up with the clever kind of feinting and sparring on McCoy's part, while Corbett's work left very little to be desired.

on his feet, and his stopping and blocking were marvelous. Corbett got to the head toward the latter part of the second round, and McCoy jabbed at him, provoking left into Corbett's face.

In the third round they got to each other often, and in the fourth round that Corbett began to take McCoy's measure. At times Corbett stopped, his scientific work and resorted to slugging, which proved very effective. McCoy was forced to clinch, and it was then seen that Corbett was surely getting the best of it. McCoy had to break ground frequently, and after the bell had sent them to their corners, while both men showed signs of fatigue, McCoy was certainly the more weary.

In the fifth and concluding round, Corbett forced McCoy into the former's corner, where the "Kid" kept knocking and sparring for an opening to get out. Corbett swung for the head, but McCoy ducked under it, and the referee stepped in to break the floor of the ring, and by clever work forced McCoy back into the ring again, where he sent right and left to the "Kid's" head. This was the beginning of McCoy's undoing.

Corbett went to him, using both hands, swinging and stabbing and occasionally uprooting. McCoy's defense was good, but he was not able to stand the onslaught, and Corbett saw that he was no longer able to hold his own. Corbett, and Mike Padden was McCoy's timekeeper.

At 10:22 o'clock p.m. McCoy entered the ring, accompanied by his seconds, and met with a hearty reception when he made his appearance. He wore nothing but a pair of white trunks, and followed in less than three minutes, smiling and bowing as he passed through the crowd. McCoy entered the ring he passed alongside of McCoy, to whom he extended his hand. But McCoy refused to take it, and Corbett walked across the ring to his corner. This action on McCoy's part met with some disapproval from the crowd.

At 10:26 o'clock the referee called the men to the center of the ring and instructed them. A moment later they advanced to the center of the ring. Just before the men began Referee White cautioned the seconds that if any of the crowd entered the ring they would be arrested.

FIGHT BY ROUNDS.

First round—Corbett started feinting, while McCoy broke ground. Corbett feinted with the left, but stepped back. McCoy tried a right swing, but Corbett threw it off. Corbett, after a spell, tried another left, but McCoy ducked under it. Corbett then tried a right swing, but McCoy ducked under it. Corbett then tried a right swing, but McCoy ducked under it.

Second round—The cleverness displayed by the body bellows of the aggressor, trying a right in the middle of the ring, but McCoy was quick to hook his left to the head, but failed to land on the "Kid." McCoy sent a left jab to the head, and began a right hook for the head, but McCoy ducked under it. McCoy then tried a right swing, but McCoy ducked under it.

The Playhouses.

The Oliver-Leslie Company, under the management of Oliver Morosco, arrived yesterday from the southern route from New York. The company consists of sixteen well-known eastern artists, every one of whom is said to have played in the metropolis and gained a reputation there. Manager Morosco states that, in conjunction with his brother Leslie, who is one of the proprietors of the organization, they have secured one of the best stock companies that has ever toured the Pacific Coast, particularly at popular prices. The opening bill is to be "The Prisoner of Zenda," the play that James K. Hackett and Mary Manning starred in a few seasons ago. This is claimed to be the highest royalty play that has ever been given at Burbank Theater prices and as the organization has been rehearsing steadily in New York for the past four weeks, it is stated that all indications point to one of the best productions of a romantic drama given in this city in a long time. Prominent among the members of the company are: William Beach, Leslie Company; Harry G. Keenan, juvenile; Frederick Hartley, juvenile; John Stepping, character comedian; Leslie Morosco, light comedian; Edwin Dudley, stage director; Walter Towns, character; Miss Helen A. Greer, leading woman; Miss Nina Morris, juvenile; Miss Beatrice Ingram; Miss Jean Clara Walters, character and grand dunes; and Miss Louise Mulder, character. The organization will begin a limited season at the Burbank Theater, beginning Sunday evening, September 5.

MINISTER LAID TO REST.

Tributes Paid the Late Rev. A. M. Hough—Many at the Funeral.

The funeral of Rev. Asahel M. Hough, who died from paralysis at his home on Westlake avenue, Monday night, was held at Westlake Methodist Episcopal Church at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon, with interment at Rosehill Cemetery. The church was crowded, and the gathering denoted that the service was in memory of a man of wide acquaintance and highly esteemed. Aged people predominated, and they came from all over Southern California.

Upon the platform sat Presiding Elder Howard, Rev. E. A. Healy, D.D.; Rev. A. C. Williams, D.D.; Rev. William Stevenson, D.D.; Rev. R. S. Cantine, D.D.; Rev. J. B. Green; Rev. Dr. J. P. Widney and Rev. J. M. Campbell.

The floral display was fine, but not profuse. There was a shaft and pedestal six feet tall, wrought in white and purple, and a large lyre in white chrysantheums. The head of the casket stood a large sheaf of ripened grass.

The pallbearers were W. A. Knight, I. L. Spencer, A. W. Bunker, A. Thompson, B. A. Gillen and T. S. Robinson. After the invocation by Dr. Stevenson, a scripture reading by Presiding Elder Howard, Rev. E. A. Healy, pastor of Westlake Methodist Episcopal Church, without taking a text, delivered a sketch of the life of the deceased.

The deceased was born at Windham, N. Y., June 4, 1830, and was educated at the New York Conference Seminary. At the age of 22 he was licensed to preach, and his first charge was in Delaware, in which state he married, his wife being Anna Gould, daughter of John B. Gould, who was a brother of Jay Gould. He later filled various pulpits. In 1868 he came to California with his wife for the benefit of his health, and had since resided here.

Soon after their arrival at Los Angeles Mr. Hough was made pastor of the little church which then stood on Fourth street. He was afterward made presiding elder of a district extending from San Diego to San Bernardino. For some years past he has been in declining health and had no regular pastorate. His last official act was during the last month of his seventieth year when in May last he attended the meeting of the General Conference at Chicago.

His principal benevolences consisted in the gift of a $12,000 piece of property, and later one valued at $600, for the benefit of the superannuated fund; to the mission fund he made two donations of $600 each; to the new Westlake Methodist Episcopal Church he gave $800, and to the annual expenses $200.

Dr. Healy spoke touchingly of the deceased in his intercommunion with the people of the church, and paid the highest tribute to him as a friend. Following Dr. Healy, addresses were made touching upon his character, public services to the church, and his home life, by Dr. J. P. Widney, Rev. J. M. Campbell, Rev. J. B. Green, Dr. R. S. Cantine and Dr. O. C. Williams.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE—IN THE OFFICES AND COURTS.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

In response to a request of the Board of Freeholders for suggestions as to provisions which should be contained in the proposed new city charter, Chairman Toll of the Council Committee on Legislation has prepared a list.

Whether to increase the police force or expend the money necessary for that increase in constructing a new pipeline to Westlake Park is a matter that is now pending the Councilmen. Money enough may be provided for both.

The City Attorney yesterday filed a 160-page complaint in which more than one hundred defendants are named, including several notorious individuals who are given peculiar names. The action seeks to have the defendants interdicted from the distribution of certain money paid into the city treasury for illegal street work.

F. L. Duntley has filed suit against the Los Angeles Railway Company for $10,000 damages for personal injuries sustained in a collision on West Seventh street, July 23 of this year. He also sues in the same court for damages to his horse and wagon in the same accident.

The Farmers and Merchants Bank has as the American Surety Bank a holding company, seeking to collect a $200,000 note given by the bankrupt Palace Restaurant Company and its subsidiaries.

In Justice Morgan's court yesterday "Nico" Queirolo was charged with a conspiracy to defraud the city of Los Angeles by means of the Mascarell estate litigation.

The impending of a jury to try the Westlake had been commenced in Justice Morgan's court.

The trial of Hillard Russell for petty larceny was continued to the afternoon of August 21, but an adjournment had to be taken in the afternoon on account of the illness of the jury.

Genaro P. Yglesias pleaded guilty to two charges of illegal practice of medicine and was fined $100 in each case by Justice Austin.

[AT THE CITY HALL.] SUGGESTIONS TO FREEHOLDERS.

Proposed Sections for a New Charter—Westlake Pipeline Estimate.

The Board of Freeholders some time ago sent out requests to various organizations asking that suggestions of provisions to be inserted in the proposed city charter be sent to them. The City Council referred the request to the Committee on Legislation. Chairman Toll of the Board of Freeholders a number of important and pertinent suggestions of what should be incorporated in the charter. The members of the City Council have from time to time been confronted by conditions which emphasized to them the need for certain provisions in a charter than those contained in the present one, and the weak places in that instrument are perhaps better known to the members of the City Council than to the public.

Mr. Toll's suggestions are his own and will not be considered by the board as being an expression of the views of the entire City Council.

His first suggestion is that provisions for civil service be incorporated in the charter. This suggestion was discussed at the last meeting of the board and it has not been decided whether to accept it or not. The extension of the term of city officers is also recommended, as is provision for the election of members of the board of directors of the city.

Important recommendation is that the board provide for the extension of the period of the street-lighting contracts and for the extension of the term of the contracts within a maximum of five years. The need for this has been shown in the extension of the term of the contracts for the lighting of the city.

The discontinuance of the offices of City Assessor and City Tax Collector is also recommended. In this connection an increase in the tax rate limit is suggested, such as an increase from 10 to 12 percent.

Another recommendation is that the board provide for the extension of the period of the street-lighting contracts and for the extension of the term of the contracts within a maximum of five years. The need for this has been shown in the extension of the term of the contracts for the lighting of the city.

four hours. This supply has greatly relieved the irrigators dependent upon the sanya system, and for the first time in three years there is not at this season any long and loud complaint of scarcity of water. The sales of water in a season or two pay for the entire cost of the three canals.

IN A QUANDARY.

PRUNING CITY FINANCES. The members of the City Council have been engaged every afternoon this week in going over the annual report of the City Auditor, to equalize, as much as possible, the apportionment of funds which are to be made to the various city departments. It is their aim to have this work completed by the next meeting, so that each of the departments will know just how much it has to expend, and also to enable the Council to pass the annual salary schedule, which has been under discussion for some time.

The Auditor recommended to some of the departments that they be allowed to increase their salaries, but he was unable to provide for all of the many items of heavy expense which the various departments have incurred during the fiscal year. The reductions already made have amounted to more than $1,000,000, but he was unable to provide for all of the many items of heavy expense which the various departments have incurred during the fiscal year.

Yesterday one item of large expense was presented and made. It is that of the construction of a new pipeline to Westlake Park. Ever since the Board of Park Commissioners reported to the City Council the serious condition of affairs at that park the members have been trying to devise means to afford the necessary relief, but have been unable to do so.

Yesterday, at the request of the Board of Park Commissioners, a committee was appointed to study the problem. The committee will report to the Council by the next meeting.

The trial of Hillard Russell for petty larceny was continued to the afternoon of August 21, but an adjournment had to be taken in the afternoon on account of the illness of the jury.

Genaro P. Yglesias pleaded guilty to two charges of illegal practice of medicine and was fined $100 in each case by Justice Austin.

QUEIROLO'S WINDFALL.

Eighth Ward Politician Gets a Judgment—Aftermath of Mascarell Case.

"Nico" Queirolo, a whilom politician of the Eighth Ward and amateur detective, won a legal victory in Justice Morgan's court yesterday, by which he will have $24,000 of the money he succeeded in collecting it, and he anticipates no trouble in getting the money, as he has the judgment of the court in his favor.

The original owner of the organ sued for its recovery or for a money equivalent and the legal struggle for possession consumed the greater portion of the time of the court. The organ company employed on the organ, and the piano company took the piano back and interpleaded among themselves as to what portion of the said $25,000 is each entitled to. The city will pay the money to the court, and requests to be relieved of further responsibility.

several ribs being fractured. A large splinter penetrated his leg, causing a painful wound; his back was wrenched; and according to plaintiffs' story he came out of the affray wholly incapacitated for further duty as the master of a six-horse team, and with a terribly shocked nervous system.

It cost Duntley $104.85 surgeon's fees to get him patched up, and he sues for this sum, together with $10,000 damages for damages to his horse and to his property, and to his nerves.

Together with his brother George M. Duntley, the plaintiff has filed a complaint in the Township Justice's court seeking reimbursement of the damages suffered in the same mishap by the horse and wagon. It is alleged that the horse was injured by the splash of the six horses was damaged to the extent of $25,000, and the plaintiffs claim $10,000 for the horse and wagon.

and says which Russell was dicker for with the clerk, Clewett. She did not notice whether the bargain was closed, or whether Russell went away with the goods, but she heard him say that 110 ought to be sufficient pay for the lot.

From the drift of questions asked Mrs. Durand by counsel for the defense it became patent that Russell is bent on proving that he bought the goods from Clewett and paid him for them during the store's temporary absence from the store, thus leaving Clewett to rest under the imputation that he accepted the money which Russell is alleged to have paid him for the goods. This ingenious defense is quite in line with the contention made successfully in former cases in which Russell was tried for petty larceny. Whether he can succeed in convincing the jury that Clewett and not himself is the real culprit in this case remains to be seen.

At the conclusion of Mrs. Durand's testimony, court adjourned for the noon recess. Justice Austin was impatiently afterward taken ill and was too sick to hold court during the afternoon. At 1 o'clock Justice Morgan, acting as Justice Austin, adjourned the case till 10 o'clock today when it is hoped Justice Austin will be able to resume his duties.
